

CONSERVATION WALKS

A circular walk allows users of the Brampton Valley Way to detour across riverside grazed pastures, through small woodland and spinney areas, and along grass margins adjacent to arable farmland. Horseriders can use the wide grass margins provided adjacent to arable farmland further east. This route takes horses away from the busy Kelmarsh Road and onto a quieter road by Rabbit Hill Spinney.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Country Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends in September 2011.
