

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

This permissive bridleyway connects with the Brampton Valley Way and the Midshires Way. The path provides some wonderful views of the local landscape and runs through both arable and pasture settings. There are many interesting features on route including Langborough Wood and the River Ise. The hedgerow restoration work and arable margin creation will benefit the array of wildlife found within this area.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 30th September 2014.
